Three messages ready to post. Tailor to the channel's tone before sending — channels often have rules pinned at the top.

Hi everyone 🙋

I'm Anuar – building Axie Duel, a tactical card game where every Axie NFT becomes a unique playable card via a deterministic parts → stats algorithm.

- Live <https://axie-duel.vercel.app>
- Repo <https://github.com/anuarissa/axie-duel> (public)
- Demo <https://axie-duel.vercel.app/my-axies> (Demo Mode works without a wallet – try the "Run demo" button)

Stack: Next.js 14 + Colyseus 0.16 authoritative server + Prisma/Postgres

+ Redis + viem 2.x for Ronin + Waypoint OAuth + 3 Solidity contracts ready for Saigon. 73+ tests green, CI/CD on push to main, Swagger UI on /docs.

Currently in playable beta – full game loop, PvE ladder, tournaments, daily quests.

Two questions for the community:

1. Is the Builders Program form open right now? The historic Typeform showed as closed in early 2025 and I'd like to know the current intake channel.
2. What's the best path for a Mavis Hub: Greenlight submission? The game meets the "playable beta" bar and I'd love community feedback.

Happy to share the pitch deck + 5-min walkthrough on request.

Thanks 🙏

2. #mavis-hub-greenlight (or #tools-api-etc)

Hi 🙋 – Greenlight submission inquiry from Anuar (Axie Duel).

The game is live in playable beta and meets the "at least one complete game session" bar:

- Web <https://axie-duel.vercel.app>
- Demo <https://axie-duel.vercel.app/my-axies> ← try Demo Mode

What's the current submission flow? I have:

- 5-min YouTube walkthrough ready
- 10-slide pitch deck (PDF)
- Public GitHub repo with full README + docs
- Three deployed services (Vercel + Railway x2)

Looking for the right form / channel + any tips from people who got through Greenlight recently.

Thanks!

3. #general (only if the above two channels redirect you here)

Hey Lunacians 🙋 – first time posting. I'm Anuar, building Axie Duel – a tactical card game (think Hearthstone x Yu-Gi-Oh x Axie Origins) where every Axie NFT becomes a unique playable card.

Live demo: <https://axie-duel.vercel.app/my-axies> (no wallet needed – hit Demo Mode and you'll see five preset Axies render as unique cards in ~2 seconds).

Looking for the Builders Program / Greenlight submission channel – has anyone here gone through the cycle recently? Any tips appreciated 🙏

Etiquette reminders

- Don't post the same message in 3+ channels at once — gets flagged as spam.
- Don't tag mods or co-founders directly first time — wait for organic engagement.
- Engage in the channel for a day or two before posting your intro. Answer someone else's question first if possible.
- Read the pinned rules in each channel before posting (channels often have a "no self-promo without 7 days of activity" rule).
- Follow up in DMs only after explicit invitation. Cold DMs to mods rarely land well.

Optional follow-ups (after first post lands)

- React to questions other devs ask. Be helpful.
- Share concrete progress updates (not promo): "deployed contracts to Saigon today, here's the addresses", "added X cards this week".
- Offer to playtest other Builders Program submissions in exchange for feedback on yours.
